Although the deadline to apply for property damage loans has passed, for small businesses only, SBA is still offering working capital loans of up to $2.0 million at an interest rate of 4 percent with terms up to 30 years. These loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills that can't be paid because of the disaster's impact. These loans provide vital economic assistance to small businesses affected by Hurricane Ike to help overcome the temporary loss of revenue they are experiencing.

So far, SBA has approved more than $594 million in low-interest disaster loans to Texas residents and businesses hurt by Hurricane Ike.

Individuals and business owners may obtain the location of a DRC, SBA DLOC, or BAC near them by calling toll-free (800) 659-2955. Hearing impaired individuals may call toll-free (800) 877-8339 or visit SBA's website at www.sba.gov/services/disasterassistance. Information on SBA programs may also be obtained at disastercustomerservice@sba.gov.

Disaster victims may now go online to file an SBA application for disaster loan assistance. The Electronic Loan Application (ELA) is accessible via SBA's secure Web site at <https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela>. The filing deadline for Hurricane Ike to return applications for Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL) is June 15, 2009.

For more information visit SBA's website at www.sba.gov/services/disasterassistance.
